5 Predictions for Forest City in 2013

As we say goodbye to 2012, what can we expect in 2013? Many believe London will be full of surprises. Metro asked some notable Londoners what we might be able to expect this new year, and what they think will be London's biggest surprise.

ANDREW SERCOMBE, WITH FILES FROM JOHN MATISZ AND JIM REYNO
london@metronews.ca

1 Kadie Ward, London Economic Development Corp.

"Hosting the World Figure Skating Championships in 2013 will make Londoners see that they live in an exceptional global city."

2 Ryan Craven, London Fuse

"The biggest surprise in the city next year will be the outcome of Fanshawe College opening its School of Applied and Performance Arts downtown. I see this as a big step in the right direction for downtown London, especially with the redesign of Market Lane. I hope it leads to a more lively and inviting downtown core."

3 Ryan Mahy, Artfusion gallery

"My prediction for 2013 is more colour! A few more public murals for the city to enjoy, plus the biggest recorded breaking pop-up art show the country has ever seen."

4 Seth Griffith, London Knights forward

"Coming out of Christmas, having a nice long break, I think we might surprise a lot of people and have a really good record in the second half."

5 Savanah Sewell of Budweiser Gardens

"I think we are going to see some of our local/indie artists receive national (and maybe even international) recognition. This city is full of amazing talent and I'm looking forward to 2013. I would love to see it shared with the rest of the world."

Metro asks regular Canadians: So, 2013 — what do you think?

Lis McMillan, 21, Halifax

"It will probably be a lot like (2012). Cold in the winter. Warmer in the summer. Probably a couple superstorms."

Helen Litam, 23, Richmond, B.C.

"No more (MTV's) 16 and Pregnant people."

Katrina Lat, 20, London

"Walt Disney will be removed from his current cryogenically frozen state, and brought in to help direct Star Wars: Episode 7."

Ali Hancharyk, 27, Winnipeg

"2013 will see popular music deteriorate to the point of solely consisting of just beeping noises and laser sounds."

Lorissa Good, 37, Calgary

"Same-sex marriages will be allowed in more U.S. states once they realize how much money gay people spend on parties."

LONDON 2013: DOWNTOWN REVITALIZATION WILL BREAK THE CAMPUS BUBBLE

URBAN COMPASS
Andrew Sercombe
winnipeg@metronews.ca

As a lifelong Londoner and current Western student, I'm familiar with the campus bubble. Young people come to the city, but, as the phrase goes, rarely go south of Jack's. That will change in 2013.

This will be the year students see London as more than their own campus and Richmond Row. The downtown core will prove itself as a student destination by offering events, venues, fun, and — what most students chase — employment.

I have worked downtown for seven years, and have seen the interesting, diverse, unique, and entertaining side of London.

Downtown is not a scary place. The downtown core has been painted as a dangerous urban sprawl where addicts are in plain view. This bad rap of downtown London has become exaggerated and is simply not true. Students complete their undergraduate degree, sometimes never experiencing what the core has to offer. According to the Western Gazette, 86 per cent of graduates leave the city after completing their education. It's no secret that city commerce and employers attempt to keep graduating students from leaving.

In 2013, the revitalization of downtown will finally pay off, and offer these students a workplace and a place to play. It's been reported that 26 new businesses opened in the core this year, and office vacancies have hit 14.1 per cent, the lowest since 2001. The number of events, venues, and new companies will attract students into the core to show them the opportunities it provides.

The World Figure Skating Championships, lengthy playoff runs by the London Knights and London Lightning, and another summer of downtown festivals will be enjoyed by many students for the first time. This year, Fanshawe College will open its school of applied and performance arts beside the redesign of Market Lane. Rumours of Western University opening a campus downtown continue to swirl.

Downtown is a cultural hub, offering some of the best customer service in the city.

It is a community that stands together, supports one another, and is well on its way to rebuilding the core into something great. New businesses continue to emerge downtown as it develops into a bustling workplace and entertainment destination. Once you see past the misconceptions, downtown London is vibrant, growing, and full of promise. More people, especially students, will realize it in 2013.

Andrew Sercombe is a Western University student and Metro intern.

Hosting avant-garde parties on campus can be fun, but there's more to do while living as a student in London. So get off campus and check out events and venues in the downtown core. JASPER JUINEN/GETTY IMAGES/FILE

These countries make headlines around the world. They face civil unrest, displaced civilians, and even the possibility of nuclear war. Metro asked Matt Ferrell, a political-science professor at Fanshawe College in London, Ont., to help predict what the world's newsmakers might look like in 2013. Here is a brief look at some of the world's hot spots and the possibilities they might meet in 2013

ANDREW SERCOMBE
For Metro

5 hotspots to watch in 2013

1 Syria

What is the issue? Between 2.5 million and three million people have been displaced by civil conflict that erupted in March 2011.

Future best-case scenario: Current Syrian leadership steps down, allowing oppositional groups to coalesce and put together a functioning government.

Future worst-case scenario: Civil conflict continues and escalates. Russia and China, who support the leadership in Syria, stall international intervention and protect the current Syrian government.

Probable scenario: With the support of Russia and China, the Syrian government continues a war against oppositional groups, stalling the country's development and its aid to displaced citizens.

2 Libya

What is the issue? Militia groups are overrunning a dissolving central government.

Future best-case scenario: Civil society triumphs. The central government is able to reinstate its power, and the country is able to restore democracy in place of the extremist groups.

Future worst-case scenario: Factionalism persists and internal conflict between the many mini-governments fighting the central government destroys the country.

Probable scenario: Civil unrest continues as militia groups struggle for power with the central government.

3 Afghanistan

What is the issue? Security in the country is very poor. Afghanistan's government struggles to protect civilians from military conflict between American forces and the Taliban.

Future best-case scenario: The United States removes troops from Afghanistan by 2014, and the government is left stable and functioning.

Future worst-case scenario: Conflict continues between the Afghan military and Taliban. The government dissolves, and Pakistan enters the conflict, supporting the Taliban.

Probable scenario: The United States will withdraw in 2014. Afghanistan will be left a divided country. On paper the mission will appear a success, but in reality the country will still suffer from conflicting factions.

4 North Korea

What is the issue? Too much of the North Korean government's budget is invested in the military, rather than infrastructure development, leaving the country with a low domestic product.

Future best-case scenario: China acts as peacemaker between North Korea and South Korea. North Korea installs more moderate leadership.

Future worst-case scenario: The conflict between North Korea and South Korea escalates, forcing international intervention.

Probable scenario: New North Korean leader Kim Jong Un continues the policies of the past.

5 Iran

What is the issue? Iran's pursuit of nuclear weapons could provoke an attack from Israel.

Future best-case scenario: Diplomatic resolution.

Future worst-case scenario: Israel launches pre-emptive nuclear strike against Iran. The United States — Israel's main supporter — is forced to become involved.

Probable scenario: Iran's military continues to possess more political control than the country's government. Iran continues to pursue nuclear weapons despite an international push for more sanctions.

EXPECT THE UNEXPECTED

Metro asks two psychics to tell us what's coming up next year in entertainment, sports and politics. First up is Psychic Nikki, a Toronto-based clairvoyant who says she predicted Hurricane Sandy, Barack Obama's first presidential win and the Tom Cruise and Katie Holmes split. Below, Calgary-based clairvoyant Kim Dennis, a regular guest on TV and radio programs, gives her vision of the new year.

PSYCHIC NIKKI SAYS

LISA WILTON
calgary@metronews.ca

What's in store for some big-name celebrities and celebrity couples?
Brad Pitt and Angelina Jolie will marry, and I see another child. But she has to watch her health.

Jennifer Aniston will have a child, or at least pregnancy and a marriage. But I also see another man besides (fiancé) Justin Theroux.

I see a marriage for Kim Kardashian.

Taylor Swift has to be careful around transportation. I see a handsome cowboy type around her, possibly business and romance combined.

(The Duke and Duchess of Cambridge) may have a set of twins in the future.

Jessica Biel and Justin Timberlake may have a kid, but their marriage is doomed in the future when one of them has a roving eye.

Justin Bieber will do more acting. There could a sitcom. He has to be careful of fast cars or red ones.

Helen Hunt will be nominated for an Academy Award for The Surrogate and Keira Knightley for Anna Karenina. Meryl Streep may be nominated again. Daniel Day-Lewis will be nominated for Lincoln and Sir Anthony Hopkins could also receive an Oscar nomination.

How will the political landscape change in the next year?
Prime Minister Stephen Harper will work well with the American president, but there could be a crisis where he is tested. He also has to watch for danger.

(U.S.) President (Barack) Obama will try to turn the economy around, but it will be hard with all the natural disasters coming. He is in extreme danger during the next four years and he may not finish his term.

Vice-President Joe Biden has to watch health and danger also. He could be replaced maybe by a woman.

It will take a long time for the economy to pick up because of natural disasters and potential terrorist attacks, and wars in the Middle East and Asia. But there could be a gold rush in Canada.

So, what are these natural disasters you speak of? Should vacationers avoid certain areas in the next year?
I see a lot of earthquake activity on the West Coast of the United States right up to British Columbia and Alaska. There will be earthquakes in the Middle East, China and Japan. Also Mexico, South American, New York City, Quebec, Virginia, Washington and Tennessee. I would try to avoid coastal areas.

What are your sports predictions?
I see a famous Formula One driver being killed in a fiery crash and I think there will be a sex scandal in the NHL.

Obama's reading

"He is in extreme danger during the next four years and he may not finish his term."

KIM DENNIS/CONTRIBUTED

PSYCHIC KIM SAYS

On Jennifer Aniston and Justin Theroux:
I think they'll probably get married. I think she's found the one. I think there might be twins.

On Taylor Swift:
The thing with Taylor Swift is she shouldn't be settling down with anyone right now.

She's supposed to be dating in her 20s. I think it's just people's perception that she's always heartbroken. She's taking her time finding love. I think she'll fall in love this year at least twice. I think she's right on track. She's doing what she's supposed to be doing.

On the Duke and Duchess of Cambridge:
It feels like it will be a girl with blond hair.

On Justin Bieber:
I think he'll be a legend like Donny Osmond. I think his success will continue to soar.

On politics:
I think Obama will do a great job during the next four years. After him, the next president will be another first. It won't be a woman, but maybe a Latino president. And I think he might be a Democrat.

Calgary Mayor Naheed Nenshi will get in again. He'll be mayor for a while.

Justin Trudeau will win Liberal leadership, but I don't see him becoming prime minister. I think Stephen Harper will get elected again.

Quebec won't separate. There will always be a group who wants to, but the province will stay in Canada.

Other predictions:
I think (Ugandan war criminal) Joseph Kony will be caught.

Something's going to rock the Catholic Church. I know they've had lots of controversy. But it might be something that brings it to its knees.

I think somebody big, like a Monsignor, will reveal something that will shake up the Catholic Church.

I think there will be a tsunami again just after Christmas. I see the South Pacific, maybe around Australia.

There will be some sort of marijuana legalization in the next two years.

The future of endangered species

With 2012 seeing the largest mass of summer ice melting in the Arctic in modern history, it's no surprise experts predict more of the same for 2013. The melting ice has implications for some of Canada's most threatened species. Metro spoke with World Wildlife Fund scientist and researcher Pete Ewin, who said global warming will continue to produce winners and losers.

ELISHA DACEY
Metro in Winnipeg

The losers

Narwhal

Narwhals, called the "Unicorns of the Sea" due to their long, sharp tusks, need deep under-packed Arctic ice because it provides them shelter from predators. Less ice means less defence.

Polar bears

Polar bears are hugely dependent on sea ice for their food supply. Less ice means fewer chances of fattening up on ringed seals, their primary food, which keeps them nourished the rest of the year around. Ewing said polar bears will eventually be found only further north, and have been eating more seaweed and kelp in recent years to keep their bellies full.

Ringed seals

Warmer waters and less ice mean fewer resting places for the ringed seal. Ringed seals usually pup on large ice floes and spend most of their lives in contact with ice or icy waters. Smaller ice floes keep these solitary animals from spreading out like they're used to doing.

The winners

Killer whales

Considered a threatened species, killer whales are making a comeback in areas with warmer temperatures and warmer waters. Warmer waters in the north means killer whales will be found there with more frequency.

Other seals

The decline of the ringed seal will mean more food for other types of seal. Harp seals, which like colder waters but not ice, may move in, affecting the diet of other animals and the Inuit, many of whom rely on ringed seals for food.

Some salmon

Different species of salmon used to warmer waters will start to replace other species of salmon. This will also attract killer whales, whose primary food source is salmon.

Talking tech predictions for an accelerated 2013

Technology continues to evolve at a rapid pace and there are no signs it will slow down anytime soon. 2013 will usher in a new wave of products and consumer technology. Here are a few tech trends you can expect to see in the coming months

MIKE YAWNEY
For Metro

Fuel-cell chargers

Recharge your gadgets over and over again without plugging them into a wall socket. Forget oversized batteries used in most portable chargers, as fuel-cell chargers use water, or in some cases lighter fluid, to charge your favourite gadgets up to 14 times. Need more juice? Simply refill the charger with fluid to reset the charging process.

This new breed of charger is small enough to fit in a pocket and uses only small amounts of fluid so it is airplane friendly for passengers.

Cloud-based gaming

Play video games without shelling out big bucks for a high-end gaming console. Cloud-based games are run on remote servers and are streamed to your home. Since the servers do all the heavy lifting, you can run the games on virtually any device such as a television or tablet. You never have to worry about outdated hardware. Microsoft and Sony are both said to be looking at the technology for their new consoles, which are expected to be announced in 2013. In fact, Sony just purchased cloud-gaming company Gaikai. Coincidence?

3-D printing

Create custom jewelry, smartphone cases and even small toys in the comfort of your own home. 3-D printing technology has been around for a few years, but the equipment and supplies have been expensive. All signs now point towards a massive push to the consumer market in 2013. Download a template, press print, and wait while your project comes to life right in front of your eyes. If you're feeling really creative you can use software to design your own custom items. The possibilities are endless.

OLED TV

Each year television displays get thinner and thinner, but this could be the year they finally become paper-thin. Last year at the annual Consumer Electronics Show in Las Vegas, both LG and Samsung showed amazing OLED (organic light-emitting diode) panels. These stylized TVs were beautifully designed, boasted rich colour and were a mere 4 mm thick. Despite promises they would hit the market in 2012, it never happened. Rumours are the sets are now ready for North American households … at least for those who have deep pockets.

Ultra high-definition TV

Think your high-definition television has a beautiful picture? Just wait until you see what's around the corner. Manufacturers such as Sony are launching 4K TV, which puts current high-definition sets to shame. Imagine four times the resolution than your current HDTV. I've seen these new sets and I've got to say the picture is jaw-dropping, but so is the price. Is it too early to ask consumers to upgrade their television yet again?

HE SAYS...
John Mazerolle

Journalism has come a long way since the days when we all wore hats that said "Press" and drank whiskey at our desk. Now we wear hats that say "Internet" and drink Jack and Coke Zero at our desk. We've come a long way, baby.

There have been many changes in the way we collect the news, too. There was a time when the public wanted — and the media delivered — complete, accurate information at the end of the working day, while the kids removed Dad's slippers and Mom made meatloaf.

But now Mom and Dad live apart and the kids are busy sexting, so to fill the gaping void in your life you fill the hole with news, news and more news, every minute, day and night.

Even stories like the Ikea monkey get updated as quickly as possible, because we in the media don't want to look like fools with an out-of-date story about a monkey in a coat.

We will be coming to you live from the Ikea parking lot, dammit, and if the monkey flings some feces, you will hear about it before it hits the ground. That's our solemn promise to you.

This speed has occasionally led to what some may call errors, such as when we kill off people who aren't dead yet. But the fact of the matter is those people will some day be dead. We've only been giving you a heads up. You're welcome.

With that in mind, I've noticed that some of my media colleagues have stuck to their tired old ways by writing a Year in Review. That is so 2012.

Instead, I bring you the 2013 Year in Advance. Here are the stories that will happen next year, before they've happened.

- Jan. 11: NASA scientists announce a major breakthrough when the Mars Curiosity rover finds itself. "I want to be a painter," the machine declares.
- Feb. 5: Inspired by seven-time Tour de France winner Lance Armstrong's example, Rolling Stones guitarist Keith Richards also denies drug use.
- April 9: According to a new report, the Harper government  in  the  transparency.
- May 15: Avril Lavigne throws Nickelback into disarray when she teaches fiancé and lead singer Chad Kroeger a new chord progression. Other band members say her "crazy ideas" are threatening to "Yoko Ono" the band's singular sound.
- Sept. 30: Meteorologists change the naming system for hurricanes to better reflect reality. Hurricane I Am a Direct Result of Global Warming causes major damage to the U.S. coastline, yet fails to breach the Republican consciousness.
- Oct. 9: Will and Kate Plus 8 debuts on the Royal Life Network, as monarchists devour the latest news from Georges I through VIII.
- Nov. 4: Toronto Mayor Rob Ford's new 700-page memoir, The Broken Republic: A Treatise on Debate and Democracy, from Plato to the Paris Convention, is hailed as a masterwork of the genre.
- Dec. 15: BREAKING NEWS — Ikea monkey has died, Twitter confirms. Oh, wait, he was only asleep. But sources say he will die eventually. You're welcome.

2013 will be the year that media outlets bring you the news before it happens — including round-the-clock coverage of the Ikea monkey.

Geoengineering

Scientific solution to global warming

A record loss of Arctic sea ice and faster-than-expected melting of Greenland's ice cap made worldwide headlines in 2012, but research published in major science journals suggests warming in the North doesn't have to continue from 2013 on.

Scientists theorize that injecting reflective particles of some kind into the high atmosphere could reduce the amount of sunlight reaching the Earth's surface and compensate for the greenhouse effect.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Ethical question

"The really hard questions here aren't mostly technical. They're questions about what kind of planet we want and who we are."

David Keith, a Calgarian and professor of applied physics at Harvard University.
Keith said any significant nation in the world has the technological capacity to facilitate a drop in the Earth's temperature.

Save it for an emergency

Cooling the Earth could be a bad idea

In a world that seems unable to come to grips with carbon-dioxide emissions driving climate change, manipulating the Earth's climate to cool it down has some calling geoengineering a bad idea.

The professor behind the idea, David Keith, believes emissions should be cut, and he doesn't advocate such a plan, at least not yet.

He suggested geoengineering may be a viable response to a "climate emergency" — a sudden collapse of ice sheets or a killing drought. THE CANADIAN PRESS

Debate heats up

- The UN has ruled out geoengineering.
- Peter Mooney of the Ottawa-based Etc Group, an environmental technology watchdog, is skeptical of anyone's ability to manage geoengineering.
- "The governments who screwed up in the first place can't be expected to take something like planetary systems management and do a better job of it," he said.

ebooks

2013 is no time to toss the cookbook in the trash

While ebooks have been exploding in popularity in recent years, scholars, chefs and those who just love to tool around in the kitchen say it's not time to stick a fork in the physical cookbook just yet.

Trend watcher Christine Couvelier, who recently passed the 3,000 mark in her cookbook collection, thinks the print format isn't going anywhere, though she also enjoys such innovations as the video clips used with recipes, and stories in publications like Martha Stewart Living that she reads on her iPad.

"There's something about experiencing a cookbook the way the author designed it so the right format is there," said the Victoria-based chef, who noted that some ereaders reformat cookbooks.

THE CANADIAN PRESS

Paywalls

Newspapers go back to the future

Whether they're lauded as the future of online media or labelled a scourge on the flow of digital information, opinions abound on the rise of paywalls in Canada, and the conversation is only going to get louder. One frequently cited example of such success is the New York Times, but observers caution that the paper is an "elite" product.

Some Postmedia papers — including the Montreal Gazette, the Ottawa Citizen and the Vancouver Sun — have been experimenting with paywalls this year. The company plans to put the rest of its newspapers behind a paywall in early 2013.

The Globe and Mail launched its much-anticipated paywall recently, and the Toronto Star, which boasts the highest circulation in Canada, will also be watching the evolution of its audience very closely once it puts up a paywall in 2013.

From aggressive women to quiet men to androgynous rappers, the new year looks promising

PAT HEALY/EVE HYMAN/CHRIS LEO PALERMINO
Metro World News

5 Bands to listen to in 2013

Savages

One of the biggest buzzes out of this year's CMJ Music Marathon in New York City was Savages, four London women whose punctuated attack on every song is every bit as vicious and thrilling as their name implies. Gemma Thompson plays guitar like she's the runaway teenage daughter of The Edge. Yes, she learned a lot from her old man, but she's still rebelling against him with the way she draws abrasive and occasionally atonal sounds out of the instrument. It's not easy to make out the subject matter coming from singer Jehnny Beth, but it's unmistakably angry, as she flails about like every convulsion is choreographed to the beats of drummer Fay Milton, who just wails on her kit. Holding down all the chaos is bassist Ayse Hassan, who closes her eyes and lets the beat coarse through her. The sound is what's traditionally called post-punk (sounding like a cross between Joy Division and the aforementioned early U2 thing) but the energy is 100 per cent punk. They've officially released a single and a live EP, but expect a full-length in the first part of 2013.

PAT HEALY

Mykki Blanco

Mykki Blanco, the alter ego of Michael Quattlebaum Jr., mixes a helping of tribal beats with her radical rap. The solo artist follows in the nontraditional path of recent indie hip-hop a la Odd Future, successfully dipping into punk and electro while retaining individuality. Her profile is bound to go up in the early months of 2013 with the slow and steady reception of praise she is receiving from her November-released album, Cosmic Angel: The Illuminati Prince/ss.

CHRIS LEO PALERMINO

Night Beds

Winston Yellin has the sort of voice that could quiet a huge room. It's not necessarily the Fleet Foxes/My Morning Jacket airy style of delivery that's so effective as much as you can just tell that this is somebody who is saying something that he feels deeply, and there's really nothing much more contagious than that. If his song Even If We Try is any indication, his album, Country Sleep, which will be out on Dead Oceans in February, is going to be a stunner.

EVE HYMAN

Little Green Cars

The hook for this Irish band's recent single, The John Wayne, is "it's easy to fall in love." And with LGC's simple and authoritative harmonic songs, it really is easy. They can weave their voices together as beautifully as any esteemed practitioner of the traditional music of their homeland, but they combine it with a crushing angst and the joy of rocking out. The band are expected to deliver a full-length in the early part of the year.

PAT HEALY

Deap Vally

Considering the oversaturation of bleeps and bloops lately, Joan Jett-esque grrl rock duo Deap Vally are a welcome change. Skimpy, sequined outfits, long hair and heavy rockin' are the name of the game for these L.A. women who are already signed to Island Records and have recently been opening for Muse in Europe. Throw on your jean jacket and get down with Lindsey Troy's raspy vocals.

THE BIG MOVIES OF 2013

Star Trek: Into Darkness

JJ Abrams has been keeping us waiting four years for the followup to his fantastic reboot of the sci-fi juggernaut. But if it's anything like the first film, the wait will have been well worth it. And with Sherlock star Benedict Cumberbatch coming onboard in a highly-speculated-upon villain role, odds are it will impress.

The World's End

Speaking of long waits, Edgar Wright is going to finally — finally! — release the last entry in his Cornetto Trilogy, after Shaun of the Dead and Hot Fuzz. The film follows pals played by Simon Pegg and Nick Frost as they relive a pub crawl that may or may not coincide with the apocalypse.

Don Jon's Addiction

After learning on the job from directors like Steven Spielberg, Christopher Nolan and Rian Johnson in 2012, Joseph Gordon-Levitt steps behind the camera himself for the first time with this modern-day take on Don Juan, co-starring Scarlett Johansson. Gordon-Levitt also stars and wrote the screenplay.

Elysium

District 9 auteur Neill Blomkamp brings some social commentary to the summer blockbuster with a big and loud action film about the haves and the have nots, immigration reform and environmental issues. In the film, the one per cent live on a pristine space station orbiting the ruined Earth. Matt Damon stars.

Warm Bodies

This romantic comedy — about an undead boy (Nicholas Hoult) who falls for a potential victim (Teresa Palmer) looks to have plenty of wit, charm and life to it. It's no Twilight.

Man of Steel

There's a lot riding on Zack Snyder's attempt to reboot the Superman franchise seven years after Bryan Singer's droopy Superman Returns. If it succeeds, it will serve as the jumping-off point for the Justice League, DC Comics' attempt to steal some of that Avengers thunder from rival Marvel. But will new star Henry Cavill make an impression with audiences?

Kill Your Darlings

Daniel Radcliffe ventures the furthest he's gone yet from his Harry Potter roots in first-time director John Krokidas' true-life tale of the early days of the Beat Generation and the murder that nearly drove them apart. Radcliffe stars as poet Allen Ginsburg in his undergrad days at Columbia University.

5 Delicious food trends for 2013

Food trends don't come out of nowhere; they grow and evolve from years passed and embody the current thinking and influences of a culture. Like other artists, chefs get inspiration from the world around them, searching for new and tongue-tickling treasures. Fresh ideas, ingredients and techniques are highlighted in culinary competitions like Bocuse D'or in France, which serves as inspiration to restaurants first and then trickle into the mainstream. The following year, we see grocery stores and retailers introducing these same flavours and trends to give us home cooks a chance to play along. Next year will see us continue on a healthy/wholesome kick.

BY THERESA ALBERT, MYFRIENDINFOOD.COM

Year of the whole beast ...

"Nose to tail" cooking has been around for a few years as chefs strut their peasant pleasures and use up every bone and organ an animal can offer. Now, the idea has come home to roost. Look for "whole beast" parties to surge. Head on, big meals like roast suckling pig, whole duck on a spit and a whole salmon in a big backyard smoker will treat you this summer.

Seaweed so good

Darwinian beings came from the sea and now we go back to it for taste and nutrients. Seaweed is a huge "new" (yet ancient) food. No longer just wrapped around sushi or as dulse from the east coast, expect to find it in crackers, breads, as a topping and a snack. Seaweed, after all, contains more minerals than any other food on the planet. Look for sushi nori to crop up in salads and other recipes, and flavoured seaweed to come to a potato chip aisle near you.

... and the veggies

As our global luck would have it, the opposite trend has taken hold as vegetarians, vegans and flexitarians take the reins. Veggies as a main dish won't be relegated to the sidebar. Look for kale, collards and other greens to be dressed for success with beans for the vegans and sausage or bacon for the rest to make a whole meal. It's a good thing too, because the numbers show that we still aren't eating nearly enough greens.

Off the rails taco fusions

Tacos are king but it isn't just the ground beef and chili powder variety that will make the grade anymore. Look for fusion flavours with Asian cabbage and Harrisa paste in a classic corn tortilla. The wilder the combo, the cooler it will be. Creative textures, shapes and sizes of the shells will morph too ... ice cream cone filled with pulled chicken with crème fraiche, anyone?

The tiniest taste

Mini-me is key. Everything small is big. Going further than the tapas trend, this one allows one mouthful of a pleasure to be enjoyed while leaving room for healthier fuel; baby burgers will incorporate herbs and greens, mini grilled cheese, mini corn dogs and super cute cubes of cake satisfy. Perhaps we have figured out that it doesn't have to be massive to hit the spot. (Here's hoping!)

Baby Spinach Burgers with Blue Cheese

Yum. Turkey beef burgers with a twist

Ingredients

- 1 cup spinach leaves
- 3/4 cup bread crumbs, seasoned
- 1 egg
- 2 tbsp ketchup
- Few shakes Worcestershire sauce
- 1 pound extra lean ground beef or bison
- 1/4 pound ground turkey
- 4 whole wheat dinner rolls

Blue Cheese Sauce

- 1/2 cup plain low-fat yogurt
- 2 ounces blue cheese
- 1/2 tsp Dijon mustard
- salt and pepper

1. Finely chop baby spinach and set aside. In a large bowl mix bread crumbs, egg, ketchup and Worcestershire and both ground meats.

2. Mix baby spinach into burger mixture.

3. Form 12 small oval patties with the burger mixture and set aside on a cookie sheet. Preheat a cast iron skillet, smear with a drizzle of oil and wipe with paper towel. Cook 4 to 6 burger patties at a time over medium heat for 15 to 20 minutes, turning once or twice.

4. For Blue Cheese Sauce: mix sauce ingredients together in a small bowl to serve as topping.

5. Serve 2 to 3 mini burgers on whole wheat dinner rolls with a side salad or veggies to dip as an entree or just one as an appetizer.

6. Dig in! THERESA ALBERT

For an extra-lean version, try bison instead. This recipe serves four. THERESA ALBERT

Fed up fans to lock out NHL with boycott pledge

A view of an empty Rexall Place, home of the NHL's Edmonton Oilers. After months without hockey due to a lockout, will fans be back in the stands if the season returns in the new year? TIM SMITH/GETTY IMAGES FILE

Fan tweets

Will you tune in to hockey if the NHL returns in the new year?

@taboada93:
I don't think so it's so sad with how they're handling the NHL lockout. It's dragging on badly

@xonor8:
NO NO NO

@dhfromkw:
Yes, good things are worth waiting for. MTS Centre is always electric. Love being part of it.

@AlanSimpson:
No. What goodwill that was built by the return of the Jets is gone. Again.

@Primlar:
I plan to avoid as many @ NHL games as are locked out, once a deal is reached. They lose this season, I'll skip 2013-14.

@dkwesty:
NO!!! going to stay with WHL And Sylvan Lake Admirals etc.

Just Drop It. Campaign calls for hockey supporters to drop everything related to the sport after Dec. 21

PHYLICIA TORREVILLAS
Metro in Vancouver

Steve Chase and his friends pledge to boycott one NHL game for every game cancelled after Dec. 21 and they're sticking by it.

The 55-year-old commercial director, a Montrealer who lives in Los Angeles, started a grassroots campaign called Just Drop It that encourages fans to drop everything hockey-related — no merchandise, no TV, no game tickets.

"We don't want to destroy our game," he told Metro. "We just want them to pay attention to us.... We decided a fair thing would be to just make it one for one. If you cancel a game, we cancel a game."

Chase created a video that has been viewed a total of 100,000 times on YouTube and Vimeo, as well as a Facebook page, which already has more than 19,000 likes.

"Our goal was to be heard," he said. "We're knocking on the door of that meeting saying, 'Guys, we're the people paying you. We're a little annoyed that you're disregarding and disrespecting us.'"

Chase said he hopes fans will live up to the pledge's challenge.

"I hope people stick to it because we need to send a little bit of a message: 'Guys, don't do this again,'" he added.

But Dr. Joti Samra, host and psychologist on the Oprah Winfrey Network's Million Dollar Neighbourhood, said that fans may be upset now about the contract negotiations, but they're not going to be able to resist the temptation.

"When it comes to sport we're pretty forgiving fans, whether our team is playing or not, whether they win or not," she said.

"It's frustrating now because for a lot of people the big part of their social activities revolve around sports, especially this time of year when the days are shorter, and people are inside more ... but fans are fans. They will support the team at the end of the day no matter what."

Quoted

"They will support the team at the end of the day no matter what."
